The Next Berkshire Hathaway

In 1957, Bill and Carol Angle invested half their life savings with Warren Buffett. Today, their shares in his company are worth over $300 million. According to Forbes, another early investor, Malcolm Chace, piled up $850 million.

You know the Berkshire miracle can't possibly come along more than once in a lifetime. But suppose you could do even half as well?

One stock looks uncannily similar to an early Berkshire Hathaway.

"We have been extremely pleased with RADirect's performance as a top reseller of PineApp's line of products," said Jacob Fox, president and CEO of PineApp Americas. "We are confident that this ramped up business relationship will benefit our many customers, resellers as well as both parties."

RADirect will now stock PineApp solutions in its inventory and provide logistical support to the companies' U.S. reseller base.

According to RADirect president Uri Zilberman, "This step marks a welcome, logical progression in the successful alliance enjoyed by PineApp and RADirect. We are very happy about this opportunity to expand the relationships with PineApp and their resellers in the growing email security market."
